

STUDIA IURIDICA NO 110 (2025)

Wojciech Załuski – Alf Ross on Freedom and Responsibility: A Critical Appraisal	7
Paweł A Boike – Misguided Copying of Anglo-American Patterns? Intentionalism as a Reasonable Proposal for a Contemporary Continental Judge	20
Dominik Świątkowski – Towards a Harmonised Framework for Copyright Enforcement in the Digital Single Market: The Interplay between Directive 2019/790 and Directive 2004/48/EC	39
Rajmund Molski – The Ugly Sister or the Cinderella: Remarks on the New De Minimis Aid Regime	57
Maria Supera-Markowska – Taxes in the EU and Their Harmonisation in the Context of the Reform of the EU’s Own Resources System	73
Katarzyna Kwaśniewska – Liability for Medical Error Involving Artificial Intelligence in Diagnosis – A Regulatory Gap in Polish Medical Law	89
Łukasz Górski – Against Explainable Artificial Intelligence in Law: Why Justifiable AI Matters. A Credit Scoring Example	107
Kamil Kapica – Free and Fair Elections in the Member States – The Limits of European Union Competences and the Consequences Thereof	128
María Alejandra Vanney – The Global Regulation of Surrogacy: Comparative Legal Developments and the Case for Abolition.	145
Zuzanna Kulińska-Kępa – Guardians between Orders: Government Agents in the Era of EU–ECHR Integration	167
Agnieszka Szpak, Remigiusz Falkowski – Treatment of Russian Prisoners of War in the Hands of Ukraine.	184
Anastasiia Vorobiova – Self-Defending Democracy and Russian Disinformation: Commentary on the ECTHR Rodina and Borisova v Latvia Judgment	206