

Contents

|                                                                                      |   |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---|
| Joanna Madalińska-Michalak, Agnieszka Szplit, Zuzanna Zbróg – Introduction . . . . . | 7 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---|

---

A R T I C L E S

---

|                                                                                                                                                                                           |     |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Makito Yurita – Reframing teacher empowerment: Between policy logics and professional autonomy . . . . .                                                                                  | 9   |
| Jaroslava Ševčíková, Jitka Plischke, Jitka Nábělková, Iva Koribská – Development of professional autonomy of secondary school teachers in the Czech Republic . . . .                      | 31  |
| Pete Boyd – Collaborative professional inquiry: A powerful driver for teachers’ development of research-informed practice . . . . .                                                       | 49  |
| Jack Whitehead, Marie Huxtable – Living educational theory research as values-led continual professional development . . . . .                                                            | 65  |
| Elda Margarita Monetti – The narrative approach in undergraduate and in-service teaching training devices . . . . .                                                                       | 87  |
| Gloria Marsay – South African teachers’ perceptions and experience of social emotional learning . . . . .                                                                                 | 107 |
| Dragana Božić Lenard, Ivan Lenard – Challenges, collaboration, and career sustainability: Experiences of school counsellors in Eastern Croatia . . . . .                                  | 119 |
| Lan Nhi Truong Thi, Joanna Madalińska-Michalak, Nguyen Tien Hoang – Digital technologies in teaching: Insights from Vietnamese teacher educators through a European perspective . . . . . | 143 |
| Zuzanna Zbróg, Agnieszka Szplit – Transition to the teaching profession: Report on focus group research on the needs of novices . . . . .                                                 | 161 |
| Contributors to this issue . . . . .                                                                                                                                                      | 183 |